What is Budi?

What budi does:

A brief bio describing why budi exists, links to research (perhaps) and snarky language explaining the unrealistic expectations we out on tech these days.

What budi doesn't do:

We don't care about you! We show you who is listening and the rest is on you. So use your human skills and stop depending on this screen.

*link to legal and copyright page*

Landing page: budi's first impression, perhaps short animation of budi (.5 sec) movement of icon. Or letters drop in, also want to add more wiring of headphones around other letters, or make up letters of wiring.

Map of buddies: show only active people!

-When you touch other budi icons they show you what they are listening to, and here is the option for birthday hats! (which should be a form in advanced settings, with option and explanation of why we want your birthday)

-I like the look of these virtual maps below:

We need to decide and develop what land marks and shapes to indicate small scale map spaces, budi should only show you within conversation range.
